WSO President*

What a show it was. The adjectives I heard describing this exhibit are too numerous to name so I'll give it a Texas yell YEEE HAH. WSO was proud to present the 47th Annual Transparent Watercolor Exhibit at the beautiful Resort in the Mountain at Welches. There were 223 members in attendance and 53 guests.

Those of you who were not in attendance missed an opportunity to play croquet on the beautiful manicured lawns at the lodge in costumes of the period put together by Jayne Ferlitsch.

The juror for this fine exhibit was Chris Van Winkle. Chris is a world class watercolorist and soon will be on his way to Australia to participate in art down under. His juroring style is deliberate with very little hesitation. He looks mainly for emotion and story telling and knows exactly what he is looking for in a painting. He was also very pleased with the way the exhibit was hung as were many of the WSO artists in attendance. Well done hanging committee.

We were pleased that his wife, Caroline and their son, Gary were able to be at Welches with him to enjoy the convention. I asked Caroline if she goes to all of Chris's juror engagements across America and abroad and she said she did. It was great to spend time with them.

Mary Coppett

The Juror - Chris Van Winkle, NWS

*Juror and Workshop Instructor
Chris Van Winkle*

I have been asked to write a few words about my jurying of the 2012 Fall WSO Show. Let me first offer heartfelt thanks to your president, Mary Coppett, the board, all chairs and volunteers for making my job so pleasurable. I have judged many shows, local and national, and none came anywhere close to WSO for class, efficiency and down-home hospitality. It was a time not to be missed. And now for those few words.

The 2012 Fall WSO Exhibition is a very good one. It reflects a wide range of techniques and styles, and it covers portrait, landscape, still life, abstract and non-objective approaches. The art would hold its own against any and all exhibitions.

Watercolor is alive and well in Oregon.

I like to jury a painting into a show. I first find the one I cannot do without. Then, I select my top twenty, another 20 and on until all spots are filled.

Obviously, given a few more spots, I could easily add 20 or more without hurting the quality of the show. I am sorry for those artists who submitted work that was not selected. I had my years of disappointment and know the feeling. You could easily have been in my next 20 group. Please continue to paint and submit again. We need your art and your view of the world.

Thank you for giving me the opportunity to jury your show. Your Oregon hospitality, all with a big smile, made the event most enjoyable.
